

Please feel free to walk the property anytime, and below is a little information about the property lines.

The picture below marks the front of the property on the north property line. It is just past the driveway for 19228 W Reed Parks Rd. I painted a purple mark on the side of the road with spray paint, and I also put a little orange reflective rod in the ground at this location. If you walk 522 feet back from this location, you should find a wooden stake with a purple ribbon around it that marks the back property line on the north end of the property.

Below is the south property line. It is located across the street from the dirt road seen in the second picture below. If you walk 361 feet back from this property line, you should find a wooden stake with a purple ribbon marking the back property line on the south side of the property. The easiest way to access the property is through the metal gate that is a little before you get to this point.
